

INDULGE

Be it mac and cheese or gooey queso fundido, Miami's top 6 cheese dishes always make us melt

BY ALONA ABBADY MARTINEZ

AUGUST 06, 2019 07:00 AM, UPDATED 24 MINUTES AGO

BAKAN'S MENU FEATURES THREE QUESO FUNDIDO OPTIONS, EACH AS DELICIOUS AS NEXT.

AUGUST 6, 2019

We may be a city filled with beautiful bikini-clad people, but that doesn't mean we won't do an extra hour at the gym just to be able to indulge in delightfully rich and comforting dishes without a drop of regret. Many of these dishes have a starring ingredient — cheese.

No matter what form it comes in, anything crowned with melted cheese pleases the masses, whether they be selective eaters or not. In a city with seemingly endless options of gastronomic temptations, we've narrowed down the list of must-try cheese dishes that are as highly enjoyable as they are highly caloric.

But that's what 24-hour gyms are for.

THE ALLEY

You didn't think there was going to be a cheese list without pizza, did you? For this category, favorites are hard to pin down. Everyone has their local winner for sure, but The Alley, the compact, friendly Miami Beach eatery tucked away from crowded Collins Avenue is a win. Prepare to swoon over the pepperoni option or the Quattro Formaggi e Sishito pie.

THE ALLEY'S CULT FAVORITE PEPPERONI PIZZA.

It's made with a generous lineup of Italian bests (fontina, rabiola, taleggio and mozzarella) then crowned with sliced shishito peppers for subtle heat making the whole experience happily linger.

1433 Collins Avenue, Miami Beach; thebetsyhotel.com/dine/the-alley.